

JASPER COURIER.

Serensen's store is open as heretofore this week.

Bolthaus has a fresh supply of tropical fruits.

Pure burbon whisky for medical purposes, purchased directly from the distillery, at T. Wertz & Co.

Seasonable showers this week for corn and tobacco, but rather hard on heavy clover.

The nuisance of pitching quoits in the Court house yard on Sunday should be abated. Shame!

The balm of a thousand flowers has shed its sweetness in perfumery at T. Wertz & Co.

Judge D. T. Laird arrived in town yesterday to preside in the court, in the case of the State vs. Columbus Houchin.

The Board of County Commissioners did not get through their business until Wednesday noon, when they adjourned.

PREACHING.—Rev. George C. Cooper will preach in the M. E. Church next Sabbath, at 10 o'clock A. M. All are invited.

Mr. Andrew Heppner has received the latest fashion plate from Buttrick & Co., New York, and will cut and make goods for gentlemen in the best style and latest fashions.

Prof. A. M. Sweeney, having been afflicted with symptoms of heart disease, ever since he left Jasper, returned for the benefit of his health on Tuesday last. Somebody's happy.

Now is the time to beautify your houses, barns and fences with a coat of durable paint. A large and complete assortment of paints and oils sold at the New Drug Store, at panic prices.

Prof. L. G. Smith, of Huntingburg, was admitted to practice as an attorney in the courts, on Wednesday. And now will the halls of justice reverberate with loud echoes of legal eloquence.

T. Wertz & Co. extend a cordial invitation to the public generally to call and see us in our new home, and examine our large stock of new goods just received and being sold at bottom prices.

The meeting of the Board of Directors of the Rockport railroad has been postponed until July 7. We are assured that if Huntingburg will raise a subscription of $5,000, the road will be completed to that town in ninety days. Go in, gentlemen traders.

IN JAIL.—Mr. James Vincent, of Huntingburg, got drunk on Tuesday last, and picked a fuss with Mr. David Jackson, about his domestic troubles, and drew a revolver on him. Result, Mr. Jackson got out a peace warrant against him and James now meditates behind grates the danger of getting drunk and assaulting peaceable citizens.

CANDIDATES.—We this week announce as a candidate for Clerk of the Courts, the present popular deputy clerk, Mr. Lon Greene. Since Col. Edmonston was disabled in his right arm, nearly two years ago, Lon has discharged the duties of the office with general satisfaction to those having business there, and shown that he is fully competent for the position. The office is a very important one, as the title to a vast amount of the real estate in the county is affected by court proceedings, and the people in choosing a Clerk should see that he is capable and honest.

For County Commissioners, we have two candidates from each district. In the First Mr. Harrison Morgan, the present incumbent, who was given the position when he did not seek it, finds the duties and allurements of the position such as to induce him to seek a re-election now. In the main he has made an excellent Commissioner, for one of his public experience. Opposed to him is William H. Green, who for so many years filled the position with credit to himself and to the benefit of the tax-payers of the county. Between these two the people will choose, with the satisfaction of knowing that whichever is elected, they have a competent officer.

The same thing will also apply to a great extent in the Second district, where the race, so far, is between Samuel Main, the present incumbent, and James R. McWilliams. The former has shown the ability for a fair Commissioner, while the latter is a respected and well-to-do farmer of Hall township, who will take care of the interests of tax-payers.

New Sash and Door Factory at Washington, Ind.—Interesting to Persons Intending to Build.

Carpenters and persons intending to build, will please note the fact, that we have recently added a sash and door factory to our hardware business, and that we are now furnishing our customers with fine sash and doors of our own manufacture, cheaper and better than ever before. We also keep Chicago work on hand.

Particular attention is given to orders for store doors, and odd sizes of sash and doors.

Our stock of hardware is among the largest in the State, and builders will find it to their advantage to get their material of us. We are having large lots of lumber hauled us from Jasper, and persons wanting hardware, agricultural implements, or building material, can send by the teamsters almost every day. We also manufacture plow-handles and double shovel plows.
